

Introduction from the Head of Project Delivery and Governance

Liz Smith

Thank you for your interest in joining Enfield Digital Services. We are growing the team to build robust technology and service foundations, develop our future strategy and empower our colleagues and residents to embrace the potential of digital.

While you may come from any background, you'll be motivated by delivering top quality public services in an environment of strict financial management and you will be driven, by supporting the Council's and our residents' ambition through delivery of new technologies.

You'll find we are already doing some great work, particularly in embracing AI, and that there's plenty more to do. You will be working collaboratively across Enfield Digital Services, the whole Council, and the wider public sector technology community ensuring what you do makes a discernible and positive difference to the lives of our communities.